The adventure of the loading screen

👁 25 ✓ 1 ★ 1

Chapter 1 by Gyro

In the moments of the loading screen a amazing heartbreaking adventure occurs. Bill a normal kid of just 9 years old was just going to witness it when he loaded up story wars.

Chapter 2 by Kamo

Suddenly, this screen projected lights into his eyes. But it was not just his eyes. When Bill turned his laptop back, he actually saw that the projected light is the set of many small windows with some animations/cover pictures each representing a story from story wars.

And there it goes, when curiosity makes Bill to stretch his hands with caution to one of the projected windows, the characters from that story start appear one by one next to him. Or rather, after some Bill realizes that it's not the characters and the world of story being imported to reality, it was him being transported to the story!

Thus the adventure of Bill began. Moments later, he heard the rules of the story traveling: He could only stay or survive in a story the amount of time his loading screen is completed.

Next step was to find a beautiful story, secure, safe and comforting. Not the dangerous, scary or mysterious stories.
